CAUSE OF RIOT NOT REVEALED

Early Disturbance Leads to Attack
By 23 White Prisoners on 13 Mexicans

(By Universal Service)

SAN RAFAEL, Feb. 18.—A race riot between Mexican and white prisoners at San Quentin prison broke out today from a cause not given out by the prison officials tonight.

Early in the day three Mexican prisoners had trouble with one white. Later the fight was renewed with added vigor when 23 whites attacked 13 Mexicans with various weapons, including knives made from files.

One Mexican was kicked and trampled upon and died at 9:30 tonight. One white prisoner was stabbed, but not seriously hurt. He is in the prison hospital.

All the prisoners who participated in the riot are tonight locked in the dungeons in solitary confinement.

Prison officials refused to divulge the names of the men involved.

An inspection was also made of the sewer situation at the foot of Tenth street. Recommendations on the project will be made at the next meeting of the city council.

Telephone Service Shows Big Growth

The rapid growth of Richmond is indicated in the big increase in the number of telephones installed here during the past year. According to figures released by the Pacific Telephone Company, this city has made one of the largest increases of any city in group No. 4. From January 1, 1924, to January 1, 1925, an increase of 304 phones was made.

In 1924 there were 2,553 phones and on January 1, 1925, there were 2,857, an increase of 10.29 per cent.

Judge J. K. Peirson of Fort Bragg, Calif., is visiting here for a few days with his daughter, Mrs. A. Welber.

Santa Fe and S. P. Railroads Abandon State Tax Protest

(By Universal Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 18.—The Southern Pacific and Santa Fe railroads have completely abandoned their fight against the King tax bill. This action assures payment of approximately $10,500,000 to the State by July 2. Stipulations affecting the settlement were signed here Tuesday by U. S. Webb, attorney general for the State, and counsel for the railroads.

The settlement accepts the decision of the federal district court finding for the State and abandons the railroads' appeal to the supreme court of the United States. Webb, in a statement yesterday, said this termination of the litigation which has marked the King bill's progress "thoroughly establishes the validity of the State's system of taxation and approves the rate as fixed by the legislature."

City Planning is Talked at School

At the meeting of the San Pablo Sanitary Board held this week, an election was called for the selection of three directors. The terms of Trustees J. A. Pownell, M. G. Moitza and R. V. March will expire.

The election date has been set for March 9th, and those who have filed to succeed themselves are J. A. Pownell and M. G. Moitza. A third candidate has also filed, E. M. Orr. All of the men who are candidates are well known in this district. R. V. March also tendered his resignation as secretary of the board. He will not be a candidate to succeed himself as trustee as he has not been a resident of the district for over a year past.

WORK ON DAM SURVEY NEAR COMPLETION

Wide Area On Contra Costa Side
Is Now Being Explored
By Drill

TO DETERMINE LOCATION

Three Sites Selected For Survey
Work to Be Decided Upon

Excellent progress is being made with the survey of the proposed Lower Sacramento River Control project it was announced yesterday at the office of the water resources department of the California Development association. This project contemplates a dam or barrier across Carquinez Straits or other arms of the upper bay.

The survey is under the joint direction of the Federal Bureau of Reclamation and the State Department of Public Works.

At the present time a closely detailed survey is being made of what is known as the Army Point site, extending from Army Point, just above Benicia, to Suisun Point or Bullhead Point, Contra Costa county. A wide area on the Contra Costa side is being explored by diamond drill to test the bedrock and to determine the character of the material which will have to be excavated in case this site is selected for the structure.

When these explorations are completed the location of the proposed structures can be determined, plans prepared and cost estimates made. Similar explorations are contemplated at two other sites where preliminary drilling has been completed, namely, the Dillon Point site, situated within the Straits of Carquinez, and the San Pablo Point site near Richmond.

These three suggested sites were selected for testing as being typical of the three types of site which exist in the bay, the short and the medium. The Army Point site is one mile in length, that at Dillon Point is a half mile long, the San Pablo site is two miles across.

This proposed barrier is an important feature of the great plan for development of the water resources of the state which was reported to the state legislature two years ago by the State Department of Public Works. Its function is to create out of that portion of the bay lying above a great fresh water lake that will become a source of fresh water supply for irrigation, industrial and household purposes. This plan contemplates large scale storage works in the mountains and foothills bordering the Sacramento Valley for holding the abundant floods of that watershed and delivery of surplus water supplies into the San Joaquin valley.

These impounded waters are to be released into the Sacramento river and pumped into the San Joaquin Valley. The proposed barrier or dam will create a catchment basin where the waters will accumulate and will obviate waste. Under the plan proposed, the pump diversion will be at a point near Stockton from where by successive lifts the water can be carried far south.

SAN FRANCISCO—Work to start on seventeen new homes in Balboa Park.

FAMOUS GERMAN PISTOL MARKSMAN IN WAR NOW CAT-KILLER IN BERLIN

Molnar Istvan, a non-commissioned officer in a German regiment was famed for his marksmanship with a pistol during the World War. He is now making quite a record as a killer of cats, whose skins he sells. Istvan is highly regarded by furriers, but his deadly marksmanship is not appreciated by cat owners.

City Engineer Finds Residents Subject to Fine

Under the provisions of Ordinance No. 351 of the City of Richmond, it is unlawful for any person owning or in charge or control of any premises, to cause or permit any surface drainage waters to flow into any sanitary sewer. City Engineer E. A. Hoffman, announced yesterday in calling attention to recent violations of this ordinance.

No opening shall be provided in the sewer pipe connected with any building for the purpose of receiving surface drainage waters. Hoffman further pointed out. All drainage water leaders must discharge on the surface of the ground. Any person violating this ordinance is liable to prosecution and subject to fine to the extent of $100.

It has come to the attention of City Engineer Hoffman that this ordinance is being quite generally violated, with the result that during the recent storm period sanitary sewers were taxed beyond their capacity causing manholes and lamp-holes to overflow, and causing water to back up into houses.

City Engineer Hoffman intends to make a house to house inspection of sewer conditions, and any person found draining surface water into sanitary sewers will be prosecuted.

CONGRESS GETS PRESIDENT'S NAVAL POLICY

President Coolidge Sends Recommendations to Special Naval Committee

ON FUTURE CONSTRUCTION

Special Board's Recommendations Said to Have Been Entirely Disregarded

(By Universal Service)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—Slashed to the bone by President Coolidge, the recommendations of the navy board concerning future naval construction were sent to congress today.

The estimates—for appropriations forwarded by the President include:

1—Modernization of three of the coal burning battleships.

2—Continuation of the construction of two aircraft carriers.

3—13,000,000 for airplanes for the carriers. This is in addition to $1,000,000 for this purpose included in the 1920 budget.

4—Laying down of two 10,000-ton cruisers.

5—Commencement of construction of gunboats for patrol service in China.

President Coolidge disregarded the special board's recommendation that seven old battleships be modernized; that six instead of three battleships be converted to oil burners; that eight instead of two 10,000-ton cruisers be built; that three fleet submarines be laid down; that the airplane construction program amount to $20,000,000 for the first year and that a new airplane carrier be laid down.

The recommendations of the special board were made at the request of the president, who, in September, 1924, requested the secretary of the navy "to consider the recent progress in aviation for the purpose of recommending a policy with reference to the development and upkeep of the navy."

Kicked from Bed is Wife's Complaint

Charges that her husband accused her of lack of cleanliness, objected to calling a doctor for physical examination of their two children, choked her and on February 7 last came home at 3 a. m. and kicked her out of bed are made by Mrs. Lucia Stromberg, of Richmond, in suit for divorce she filed yesterday against Lester Stromberg, Standard Oil Company employee. The couple married in 1920 and separated on February 7. Mrs. Stromberg asks custody of the two children and an award of $50 monthly for their support. The suit was filed through Attorney C. D. Horner.

FOOTLESS STUDENT, WHO SLEEPS ONLY 90 MINUTES A DAY, PUZZLES DOCTORS

Andersan Fry, 20 year old student at Marshall College, Huntington, W. Va., has had a maximum of ten hours sleep a week in the last five years since he lost his feet in a railroad accident. Psychiatrists are endeavoring to learn how he manages to get along and feel normal on 90 minutes sleep a day. He sits up most of the night but cannot study much as it makes him nervous. From Feb. 1 to 11 he went without any sleep, but at the end of that time he felt drowsy and resumed his 1-1-2 hour sleep schedule.

Local Tragedy is Laid to Friction in Family Circles

Another tragedy may be laid to the aged-old misunderstanding between wife and mother-in-law, according to the testimony revealed at the inquest held by Coroner Charles F. Donnelly last night into the death of Louis F. Rohl, plumber of 109 Mason street, who passed away last Sunday noon at his home.

According to the testimony it was shown that Mrs. Louis Rohl, widow of the deceased, had refused to receive Ernest Edward Faust, brother-in-law of Rohl. She stated that he could come to the house, but she would not receive him. Her husband would have to do that. After asking her a number of times if she would not change her mind, her husband went into the bathroom and took poison and died a few minutes later.

Mrs. J. M. Norton, nurse, residing in Oakland, and a friend of the family was visiting at the Rohl place on the morning of the accident. She testified that the deceased had been in a happy mood on Sunday morning, and had amused himself by playing the victrola and dancing about the room.

Mrs. Rohl and she were eating breakfast, Mrs. Norton stated, about 11 o'clock Sunday morning. Rohl, who had eaten his breakfast two hours before, was playing the victrola, and singing. He came over to the table where the women were eating, said that he believed he would take a cup of coffee. While he was getting the coffee, the phone rang.

He answered the phone. Mrs. Norton said, and as he talked he became very nervous, and turned white as a sheet. He gave directions to the party he was conversing with on the phone on how to reach his place. But he was so nervous at the time that he gave the wrong direction. Immediately afterwards, Mrs. Norton

MITCHELL TO BE 'PUNISHED' FOR TESTIMONY

Brigadier-General Notified By President Coolidge To Accept Sentence

TOLD OF WEAK AIR DEFENSES

Mitchell Testified Army And Navy
Heads Suppressed Truth,
Refused to Act

(By Universal Service)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—Brigadier-General William Mitchell is to receive punishment at the hands of President Coolidge tomorrow for his testimony before the House Aircraft committee, which revealed the amazing weakness of the nation's air defense.

General Mitchell will be given the alternative of resigning from the army or accepting the reduced rank of Colonel, involving transfer from Washington to an out of the way post.

President Coolidge sent word to Mitchell today, summoning him to present himself to the White House in the morning to receive orders from the commander-in-chief.

Mitchell tonight was undecided whether to accept the reduction in rank or give up his commission and leave the army.

EITHER MITCHELL OR WEEKS

The President interested himself in the matter at the urgent request of Secretary of War Weeks, who informed the President at a conference today that either Mitchell would have to be disciplined or he (Weeks) would resign from the Cabinet.

Weeks visited the White House this morning in a rage to protest against some of the statements given by Mitchell in his testimony before the committee. He was particularly incensed by the strong showing made by Mitchell that the chiefs of bureaus charged with laying out a program for development of the nation's defense had failed miserably to make provision for a strong force.

Secretary of the Navy Wilbur accompanied Secretary Weeks to the White House and made similar representations to the President, namely, that Mitchell would have to be disciplined or they would both quit the Cabinet.

MAY ACCEPT LOWER RANK

Following the meeting with his two Cabinet officers, President Coolidge authorized the word which was sent to Mitchell, ordering him to appear "on the carpet in the President's office tomorrow."

It is believed that Mitchell will decide to accept the lower rank of Colonel rather than quit the service to which he has devoted so much energy and effort. He has only a war time commission as Brigadier-General, but was in line for promotion to the permanent rank. A number of promotions were sent in by the President several weeks ago and the fact that Mitchell's name was not included occasioned considerable comment. The omission was attributed to his frankness in discussing the faults of the army system and its weakness in the aircraft men of the national defense.

CONGRESSMEN INCENSED

Representative Curry of California stated instantly that he would introduce a bill in the House of Representatives demanding that the President nominate General Mitchell

FEBRUARY'S HEROES

Two national heroes came to this earth in February. A very good month for America.

George Washington seems a shadowy figure to young folks now. But his romantic story goes beyond the thrills of fiction. His military skill would have made him a famous general in any age. Greater still was his unconquerable courage. If it had not been for that resolute spirit, we might still be serving the English king. Who knows?

When ordinary human nature sank into despair, George Washington began to get into full action. When they told him a thing couldn't be done, he began to get thoroughly interested. We can't rise to that level. But if we would follow our best leaders as Washington's men followed him across frozen Valley Forge, we would get somewhere in this country.

Abraham Lincoln could direct the fighting armies with the relentlessness of any warrior. But when the fighting was over, the beaten men as his brother, to be welcomed back to his old place in the family circle. If his big heart could have guided this country through the tragic reconstruction days, the bitter taint of that time could never have soured the relations between north and south.

Lincoln was a plain man. To him, the shows and tinsel of the world, its glories and pompousities, were but dust and ashes. If his warm sympathy were leading us now, the deep chasm between rich and poor would be obliterated. Men would be ashamed, in the revealing sunlight of that great soul, to strive for selfishly used wealth or to shirk honest toil.

INSURANCE SAFEGUARDS BUSINESS DEVELOPMENT

It has often been stated, and it is a fact capable of proof, that insurance is today virtually the basis of all credit. The development of aircraft has been a hazardous undertaking and until recently it could hardly be classed as a safe commercial venture. Recent developments, however, show that the time is not far distant when the aeroplane and airship will take their place as a part of our daily life. Before they can do this, however, insurance protection must be provided to safeguard life and property from damage or death caused by this newest means of transportation. The first attempt of insurance companies to issue policies on this class of risks, resulted in the loss of hundreds of thousands of dollars to the companies. Not discouraged, however, they are again attempting to cooperate with the manufacturers of aircraft in order to afford insurance protection. In writing this from of insurance, safeguards will be required on the part of manufacturers which will add greatly to the security of the public. Thus is insurance extended to new fields and the development of an industry made possible which otherwise would lag due to its inability to safeguard the public against unreasonable loss.

WHERE BLUE SKY LAWS FAIL

A reliable authority estimates that the small investors of the United States lose about $2,000,000,000 a year through ill-advised, fraudulent and worthless investments. This sum, he says, would purchase outright 17 of the greatest public utilities companies in the country.

The value of a dollar, the ways of getting it and the story of what it can do and how it should function in society, ought to be a good course in the schools and colleges. Greek, Latin, French and astronomy are excellent cultural studies; but some knowledge of industries and business principles on which a government functions and a community exists, might be infinitely more valuable. Part of this vast sum lost on bad investments might be saved by such a course of study.

IN BEHALF OF PA

We should think that the special legislation designed to restore to the impeached former governor of Texas his political rights would embarrass the good lady who is (a) wife of the aforesaid ex-governor and (b) governor of Texas.

Mrs. Ferguson may have assumed that in electing her, the proletariat of Texas indicated its desire to remove the stigma from James E. Ferguson. We do not think that was it. The Ferguson mistakes may have been condoned.

OVER 15,000 MEMBERS GET EMERGENCY ROAD SERVICE

Since it was inaugurated in the larger centers on April 1 last year, the free mechanical first aid and towing service of the California State Automobile Association has assisted over 15,000 members whose cars have been wrecked or stalled on the road. This service is now state-wide, operating in over 250 cities and towns throughout California.

EXTRA SESSION

The extra session of congress called by President Coolidge for March 4 is only for the purpose of considering the confirmation of appointments of the new administration. A similar session is held at the beginning of each new administration.

SHOULD the woman fasten her eyes on the woman in the picture, do you think—avoid certain colors, certain outlines, certain proportions in dress—just because she is past forty? The feeling used to be you know, that a woman, "old enough to be a grandmother," was either a little weak witted or of questionable character who continued to dress substantially like a young woman.

woman to such an extent that one really had to be very young to wear it. The older woman avoided it not because it smacked too much of youth, but because it didn't when she wore it.

This type of frock, think some critics, had best be left alone save when put together by the magic talent of a Jeanne Lanvin, or some one of her rank. As done by the "little dressmaker," the robe de style is never more than a pathetic copy.

In place of the real robe de style with its formal full skirt, a pompadour and its thick drawn bodice, we have informal little feminine frocks, which combine gathers in the skirt with the straight, scant line that we have all come to demand. And this type of frock, distinctly youthful though it surely is, may often be worn with perfect success by the older woman.

Here we have this full-skirted sort of frock made of mauve tulle striped with pink, and worn over a pink organdy slip, stitched in mauve.

WISE AND OTHERWISE

By MARY MARSHALL

DOES VIOLET BECOME YOU?

IF violet or lavender really becomes you, you are the exceptional woman. For there are many more women who believe that they can wear purple than there are women who can actually wear it to advantage. The old idea used to be, of course, that shades of lavender were the only colors aside from black and white and gray—that were suited to a woman with white hair, and so it was associated in the minds of many with the older woman. The result was that a younger woman was often told she was "too young to wear lavender." As a matter of fact, lavender can be better worn by the young woman than by the older woman, and experts on such matters seem to be agreed that this is one of the most trying of colors.

At present the fuchsia shades are being exploited, as they have been for several seasons off and on, for millinery. But you may have discovered for yourself that these tones are much more decorative in a millinery show window than when worn by most women. The only time that the fuchsia-colored frock can advantageously be chosen is for an eccentric little evening gown, to be worn not too often, or for a negligee by the woman who can have several.

How can nickel-plated wear be kept clean?

By washing it in hot water and soap. Even if it is dull and stained, a few successive washings of this kind will brighten it.

"SAVE AND WIN"—IDEAL SLOGAN FOR U. S. CITIZENS

By S. W. STRAUS.

President American Society for Thrift

THE man who saves is the man who will win.

Here is one of the best short sermons ever preached on the subject of thrift.

It tells the whole story of the purposes and the rewards of thrift.

The words were uttered by President Coolidge, and, though he made a number of other statements in the same connection, this sentence embodies a lesson that every school teacher, every business executive, every parent, every person, in fact, who exerts a forceful influence over others, should make use of.

The object of thrift is not to save money, to hoard wealth, to acquire stocks and bonds and real estate. The object of thrift is to effect success.

What may be success to one would be considered failure by another. We all have our standards of success.

But, regardless of what these standards may be, thrift is one of the necessary means to the desired end.

Lack of thrift breeds weakness, vacillation, idleness. It robs one of the power of progress. It kills ambition. Thrift, as one of our great statesmen once said, "stiffens the will." It gives character. It develops self-reliance. It provides the stamina without which no man can ever truly succeed.

The financial independence won through thrift is always an element of success, but the mental and moral advantages are of even greater value.

"Save and win," would be an ideal American slogan.

My Matrimonial Vacation

by VIOLET DARE

AUTHOR OF "The Half-Time Wife," "The Husband Tamer," "One Wife on Approval," etc.

WHO'S WHO AND WHAT'S HAPPENED

NANCY LARRABEE remains in New York with her mother. VIRGINIA, when her husband, JIM LARRABEE, who is an army officer, goes to the Philippines on foreign service. Disillusioned after six months of marriage when she sees another woman in her husband's arms, she plays the social game as her mother dictates, in her relationships with FRANK HARRISON, a wealthy man twice her age, and NICHOLAS WAYNE, whom she really likes.

TODAY'S INSTALLMENT

XV—I PLAY FATE

AS I sat there talking with Mrs. Jordan I thought of her husband as I had seen him the night before. Not one of the women guests at his party had been as pretty as his wife was. And she had charm and intelligence as well as beauty. Yet he preferred those other women—one or two very gay debutantes, a chorus girl, several actresses who had very small parts in second-rate plays—and me. Was I second-rate, too, I asked myself.

I studied Mrs. Jordan across the tea-table. It seems queer to me all ways that the old theory about beauty isn't true. Perhaps there was a time when it was the beautiful woman who had everything, though they do say that Cleopatra was no beauty.

But nowadays a girl who is quick-witted and fascinating doesn't have to have beauty, if she has style. And there are so many really beautiful women, like Mrs. Jordan, whose husbands just leave them to sit on the side lines while they pursue somebody else through the game of life.

Nathalie Jordan was really wonderfully beautiful, if her face hadn't been so sad. I sat there looking at her, and suddenly I resolved to step in and play Fate.

After all, why shouldn't I? I felt sure that her husband didn't realize how lovely she was. And she'd left herself to be unhappy over him till she'd lost her charm for him. If she really loved him, she ought to have him back!

"Oh Mrs. Jordan, why do you go South?" I asked her, as she languidly discussed her plans, and wondered whether to go to White Sulphur or Virginia Hot Springs or take the Mediterranean trip.

"Oh—just to be doing something," I supposed, she answered. "I'm so tired of New York."

"I think I could show you a side of New York that would interest you," I exclaimed impulsively. "Won't you let me try?"

Virginia looked at me in surprise, but I hurried on. "There are so many attractive places—and people—do play around with me a bit, Mrs. Jordan, and see if I can't make the city interesting."

I could see that she didn't understand at all; that she wondered why I should take such an interest in what she did. But after a moment's hesitation she smiled and said slowly: "Well, why not? I'll postpone my trip a few weeks, and meantime you can show me whatever you like."

I wondered later, as I walked over to the hotel where Mrs. Jordan was to meet me, whether I had been awfully foolish. I hadn't been awfully foolish. I hadn't the faintest idea just what I was going to do. But somehow I was going to make that Jordan man appreciate his wife!

"Save and win," would be an ideal American slogan.

Nick took me to the quaintest place—a sort of a cross between a Russian inn and a deep sea cavern. It was awfully attractive, and as yet unspoiled because the general public hadn't discovered it. There was a Russian nobleman in charge. I don't believe there are any left anywhere except in New York, where they all run restaurants! And a group of Russians furnished the music, and there were Russian waiters, and chefs, and bus boys.

There were benches around the walls, and huge floor cushions heaped in the corners, where you could sit if you wanted to. "Nick, I love this place!" I exclaimed as we went in. "How did you ever discover it?"

"It's backed by three young business men," he answered, with a queer little smile, "and your friend Nick is one of them!"

"Nick! Not really!" "Sure. Didn't I tell you that I had to have more money? I'm willing to do anything to get it. I lost what I wanted more than anything else in the world because I didn't have it, and now—"

"Now you're going to get the money, and then get your heart's desire back again," I supplied, as we sat down at a corner table.

"No, there's no hope of that, I guess," he answered gloomily. "But I'm going to get the money anyway."

I looked around at the other people who were dining there. It was really an interesting crowd, not at all the usual sort that one sees on or near Broadway. Over on the opposite side of the room was one of the prettiest girls I had ever seen, dining with a rather oldish man.

"Nick, what a pretty girl—over there," I said; a man always thinks you're so generous if you call his attention to some other girl that way—but being a blonde myself, I never bother to do it unless the other girl is a brunette. Why take chances foolishly!

He glanced at her carelessly, then turned back to me quickly. He had turned very pale, and his face had grown tense.

"Yes—that's my wife," he said, "or rather, she used to be."

She had seen him too. And I had my second inspiration of that day. I knew that he was still in love with her—and she might still be in love with him. And it's still possible to make a woman jealous. If she still cares for a man.

I smiled up at Nick in my sweetest fashion.

"Don't be a fool, Nicky," I murmured. You'd have thought I was saying "I love you!" at least. "You are after her, don't you? Well, be awfully nice to me, and let's find out if she still cares for you."

WHERE IT STARTED

"THE PALE"
The expressions "within the pale" and "without the pale" originated after the invasion of Ireland by Henry II of England. That part of Ireland which was under control was said to be "paled" or fenced off, and persons coming "within the pale" were under the dominion of England while those "without the pale" were under Irish regulation.

Daily Cross Word Puzzle

The way to solve the Cross Word Puzzle is to fill in the white squares of the diagram with the words which agree with the accompanying definitions. The definitions are numbered to correspond with the numbers on the diagram.

Any word defined in the text under "HORIZONTAL" will begin at its number, shown on the diagram, and will extend all the way across to the first black space to the right of that number. That is, the word must begin in the square that contains its identifying number, and extend as far as the white squares continue uninterruptedly.

Any word defined under "VERTICAL" will also begin in the white space that contains its number, but will extend downward as far as the white space remain uninterruptedly.

SOLUTION OF YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE

Hard Luck Follows Stars in Making "The Only Woman"

Hard luck followed both Norma Talmadge and her leading man, Eugene O'Brien, during the filming of her latest picture, "The Only Woman."

Many of the scenes, depicting a thrilling shipwreck in mid-ocean, called for unusually rigorous action on the part of the pair. As the picture will show, they are forced to cling to the frail railing of a yacht which is being tossed about like a feather while huge ocean waves sweep over them. The danger lay not only in being swept overboard, but also in exposure to the cold salt water.

All one night the couple battled a fierce squall fifty miles out from Los Angeles and finally were compelled to abandon the yacht, which was washed up on the rocks of Catalina Island and was fast disintegrating.

As a result of being soaked to the skin both Norma and O'Brien caught severe colds, as well as other members of the company of sixty which participated in the scenes. Eugene was threatened with pneumonia, and it was necessary to postpone the filming of the picture for a week, pending his recovery.

More hard luck followed when, later, an iron cable slipped from its fastening in the United Studios and struck Norma. Her injury was painful, but not serious, and after treatment at the Community Hospital she was enabled to continue with her work.

"The Only Woman" a First National picture produced by Joseph M. Schenck, will be shown at the Richmond theatre for the last time tonight.

Other features in the same program include "Lost Dog," a Spat Family comedy; "Prizma," a screen magazine.

U. C. PROFESSOR CLAIMS WOMEN NON-PRODUCERS

(By Universal Service)

BERKELEY, Feb. 18.—There is one man who isn't afraid of women.

The brave gent is Perham W. Nahl, professor of art, of the University of California.

To prove his bravery, he hurled a challenge from the heights of his artistic reputation today, sat back with folded arms, and waited for the storm of feminine replies his criticism is expected to bring forth.

Women are incapable, the distinguished California artist asserted, of attaining the greatness of men in the same field of artistic endeavor.

They have not the artistic creative ability. They are not producers.

Though intellectually on the same plane, a man would soon excel a woman, if starting from the same relative point, in the world of art.

However, harsh this may seem, Professor Nahl threw in the remark, perhaps as soothing syrup, that women are quicker to see the beautiful in art than men.

"Women are more subject to refinement in the home and have a greater artistic sense than men," Nahl asserted.

Nahl delivered himself of the theory also that artists are not born, but that men and women are born with capacity for organization and design who do become artists of distinction.

"Many women," declared Nahl, "take up art work merely as a cultural course. Others, strange as it may seem, take up art as an aid to getting married and there are very few women who are determined enough in their efforts to starve, if starvation seems the way to obtain their goal."

Good Comedy in "So Big" Today 'At California

There are some delightful touches of unusual comedy in Colleen Moore's new picture, "So Big," now at the California theatre.

Edna Ferber, the novelist, who wrote the story, laid the scenes in the old Dutch colony which settled near Chicago in the latter quarter of the last century, and, though the antics of the stolid old Dutch types, has injected a great quantity of humor into an otherwise serious drama.

In order to extract the most fun out of this side of the play, First National mobilized perhaps the most notable supporting cast which Colleen or any other star ever had included is Wallace Beery who, in the role of an old Dutch farmer, has no use for laundries. He wears the same shirt year in and year out.

Also there is Phyllis Haver of Keystone comedy fame. She plays the role of a vampire of 1890. Fort Sterling, erstwhile Keystone Kop, is even funnier as a Dutch farm hand. More fun is added by Dot Farley, as a small town gossip.

Other screen favorites in the cast are John Bowers, Ben Lyon, Jean Hersholt, Sam De Grasse, Gladys Brockwell and Rosemary Theby.

"So Big" is an adaptation from Edna Ferber's novel of that title, and was directed by Charles Brabin under Earl Hudson's personal supervision.

Other features in the same program include "High Gear," a Bobby Vernon comedy; International News; Larry F. Canelo at the organ.

JUST WHY!
From the Heart of a Little Girl
Daddy, if you know we're hungry,
Know that we are very poor.
It must break your heart in heaven.
'Cause you never did insure!
Mamma wonders why you didn't
Save the dimes you threw away;
But you felt too strong and healthy
For insurance, people say.

You were taken without warning,
Leaving us to fight alone.
You'd have taken-out insurance,
Daddy, if you had known!
'Twasn't that you didn't love us.
I recall how dear you were;
But your little girl must suffer
'Cause you failed to save for her

Mamma just can't make a living!
She is wearing out, she said!
I shall have to miss some schooling
For the sake of daily bread.
When she's gone I guess they'll take me

To a place of charity
To be fed and clothed; but Daddy,
It can never be home to me!

Mary's daddy was a Moose.
And their home will still be theirs.
They're not hungry. Sometimes Mary
Gives me cast-off clothes she wears.
They don't have to take in sewing.
Mary's mamma doesn't cry.
For her daddy was a Moose.
But you wasn't daddy—why?

King's Heralds Hold Program For Missionaries

The King's Heralds held a meeting and birthday party at the home of Miss Reba Sanders Saturday afternoon, Feb. 14.

After the various reports had been read, Mrs. Irish, district superintendent of the Junior work, gave a very interesting talk on China and also told the third chapter of "Chinese Lanterns," this year's study book. Mrs. Irish was formerly a missionary in China.

After concluding her talk Mrs. Irish welcomed several members into the band in a very unique way. Those taken into the organization by her were Anna Bengston, Nellie Deemer, Violet Hall, Bertie McKay, Dorothy Woodworth, Alma and Ruth Yeater.

A decorated birthday cake was then brought forth, on which were 12 red candles, one for each year that Miss Hadden had served in India, 22 blue candles for the 22 years that Miss Parks had served in the Philippine Islands. Then there were six white candles in between the red and blue ones, to represent the gospel light that the missionaries are taking into foreign fields.

One of the candles stood for the love the missionaries have for the natives, another for their faith in the Lord, the third for the health of the missionaries, the fourth for their success in their work, the fifth for the helpers in Christian America, and the sixth was for the pledge of the hand of Wesley church to do all that is possible for these missionaries.

The candles were lit by Miss Frances Antone, the first life member for this year. As a candle was lighted someone's name was called and the person called dropped an envelope, in which was the birthday collection, into the basket in the center of the room fashioned out of three large red hearts.

The birthday collection was one penny for every year that the two missionaries had served in the foreign fields. There was $5.75 collected, which will be put into the life membership fund.

Mrs. Irish ended the birthday service with a prayer.

Games were then played and prizes were won by Mrs. Anna and Emily Stridley.

This is the Richest Milk I Ever Saw

OUR PROUD REPUTATION

That the Purity Creamery of Richmond is one of the best conducted and most sanitary plants in the state, was the opinion of speakers who sponsored the new milk ordinance before the city council at its meeting this week.

Dr. Blake and others spoke in high terms about the local creamery, which is said to have passed all state inspections with high scores under the pure food act. It has always merited the very best reports, it was said.

This News Item Appeared in Record Herald January 6th

Housewives in Richmond know this to be true. Our milk has a reputation for having more Rich Cream than the Ordinary Kind.

This Creamery enjoys a reputation that is the envy of others. We earned that reputation by always serving our customers with the highest grade of milk to be had.

Kearney-Furrers To Tackle Fast Oakland Cagers

Sixteen games won out of 17 played, is the proud record of the improved Order of Redmen basketball team of Oakland, which will engage the Kearney-Furrer team, champions of the Richmond Basketball league, in the Junior high school gym here tonight.

The teams that the Redmen have defeated have not been all set-ups by any means. Some of the clubs that have bitten the dust before them are the Western Electric and Mercury club of Oakland; Alberts of Richmond; St. Paul Athletic club of Oakland, whom they defeated by the score of 74 to 7, which is the season's record for high scores in the East Bay basketball circles.

STARS COMPOSE TEAM
High school stars compose the team—men who have graduated and who are following up the game for the love of the sport. Art Ford and Prentice Larrick are the star forwards. These men are rated as among the best in amateur circles on this side of the bay.

Others who make up the first string line-up are H. Knollman, center; Chuck Dye, and Jack Munro, guards. Knollman at center, is a star of the first water, and has been a big factor in the team's success this season. As guards, Munro and Dye compare with any in this section.

LOCALS HAVE GOOD RECORD
The Kearney-Furrer team is not so far behind the invaders as one might think from the foregoing comment. They have won the championship of their league, and were only eliminated from further honors in the P. A. A. by one of the best teams in San Francisco.

Basketball fans are promised a treat when these two teams meet, as both are the best in their section of the bay. And if records mean anything, a close game should result, with the dope probably favoring the invaders.

If Kidneys Bother Try Dose of Salts

No man or woman can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Too much rich foods create acids which clog the kidney pores, so that they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood. Then you get sick. Rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders often come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage, or attended by a sensation of scalding, begin to drink soft water in quantities; also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine.

This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to help neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer cause irritation, thus often relieving bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and can not injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, which everyone can take now and then to help keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby often preventing serious kidney complications. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

WATER BONDS VALIDATED BY NEW DISTRICT

The work of validating the $200,000 Mokelumne water bonds, establishing the legality of the bond election are the two most important pieces of work now engaging the attention of the East Bay Municipal District according to Geo. C. Pardee, president, who today issued a statement summarizing the recent activities of the district.

"During the last month's progress was made in the work of validating the Mokelumne water bonds," said Pardee, "A suit filed by W. J. Locke, the attorney for the District, brought three contesting answers. The suit will shortly be tried in the local superior court. This is a legal and technical matter dealing with the validity of the procedure by which the bond election was called, and of the legality of the bonds. The public will understand that the construction program of the Mokelumne project must necessarily be held up until such details as the legality of the election and the bonds are cleared up. It is difficult to say at this time how long the case will be in court. The directors are as anxious as the people for haste in solving the water problem and there will be no unnecessary delay.

"Locke has prepared some important amendments to the State law under which the Utility district operates and it is hoped that these measures will be passed by the present Legislature. One of these amendments straightens out some ambiguous passages in the law governing the voting and issuing bonds, and another smooths the way for taking possession of rights-of-way. Still another clears up all doubts regarding the conduct of elections, a point upon which the present law, it is claimed, seems somewhat obscure."

for a major-generalship "because of his patriotic sacrifice to this country."

Other congressmen, when they heard that the chief executive was penalizing Mitchell for awakening America to its peril, gathered in excited groups at the capitol and stated that they would do everything in their power to cause "Mitchell's promotion, not demotion."

Back of these announcements lies a mass of political and departmental intrigue that has been seething in Washington for the past two months. Close friends of General Mitchell "say that he was told 'long ago' to 'just keep quiet and your future will be provided for.'"

"Man Next Door" is Friday Film at Wesley M.E. Church

"The Man Next Door" by Emerson Hough, author of "The Covered Wagon," "N. 17th of 36," and "The Mississippi Bubble," which will be seen at the Wesley Methodist church next Friday, will have one of the best casts ever assembled.

Vitagraph engaged Victor Schertzinger, who directed Charles Ray, Mabel Normand, Madge Kennedy and Tom Moore, to produce "The Man Next Door," and placed at the disposal of Schertzinger its enormous studios at Hollywood and told him to go ahead without regard to expense.

The story deals with life on a ranch and in society in a city. The contrasts in background and environment offered by these two distinctly different locations, gave Director Schertzinger the broadest opportunity in filming a variety of scenes and sets.

The action in the West was shot at Palto Verdi ranch, in Southern California, one of the few remaining open range grazing ranches in the country. The owners of the ranch placed at the disposal of the director for use in scenes their staff of cow-punchers, as well as the 5,000 head of cattle on the ranch.

Local Tragedy

ton declared he told his wife that Jack Forrest Edward Faust, the brother-in-law—was coming to the house, and asked her if she would receive him. She declared that she had enough trouble with his relatives and that if he wished to entertain him he would have to do it himself.

He asked her three different times if she would not receive him, it was stated, and then receiving the negative answer, he rushed into the bathroom, taking an empty glass with him. A few minutes afterwards, he came out, and said to Mrs. Norton: "I have done it, Jonnah."

At the time, Mrs. Norton said, he was smoking a cigarette, and smiling. He then went out side taking his dog with him. He collapsed at the foot of the steps leading to the house.

He was carried into the house, with the aid of the two women and the son of Mrs. Kohl, Garland V. Theobald. Dr. St. John Hely was called, and upon arrival pronounced the man dead.

Mrs. Kohl, the wife, testified that her husband had often quarreled with his relatives and that he had often threatened to take his life. George A. Knox, local druggist, testified to selling the deceased a bottle of potassium cyanide poison on August 6, 1924, for experimental purposes.

Others who testified were Aubrey Wilson, Captain B. V. Shirley, Forrest Edward Faust and Mrs. Green-slade, mother of the deceased.

After a few minutes deliberation the jury returned the verdict of death from potassium cyanide poisoning, taken with suicidal intent.

The jury was composed of the following: L. S. Hunt, F. Julio, F. L. Swearingen, R. V. Armstrong, H. Mahan, R. E. O'Brien, Fred Husing, foreman.

After the short deliberation the above jury returned a verdict of accidental drowning in the case of Carl Frederick, aged fisherman, who was found on Long Beach, a section of the water-front of Richmond, a few days ago. Those who testified were Dr. Lucas, Captain B. V. Shirley, R. Minigan, and F. Menegaro.

GODD FELLOWSHIP TO HEAR NEWSPAPERMEN

"Indians" will be the subject subject chosen by Frank Cliff, Oakland newspaper man, who will be the chief speaker at the banquet of the Good Fellowship club of the First Presbyterian church to be held next week E. E. Lichig, expert on community singing will assist with the program.

when he learned that the army's general staff had made no defense plans against air attack; when week by week he ascertained that England, France, Japan and Italy were building gigantic super-planes, which this country refused—

When he learned all this and more he put his own head in a political noose, appeared before the House aircraft committee and gave damning testimony which showed that both the army and navy heads were not only suppressing the truth regarding aircraft effectiveness from the American people, but were also refusing even to adopt air defensive measures for this country.

It was not that these facts existed, and that Mitchell had objected to them—it was because Mitchell "told it to the world"—revealing the inefficiency of both the army and navy departments and their utter regard to National Defense measures, which caused Weeks and Wilbur to make their demand for action against the General.

STOCK MARKET QUOTATIONS

By RICHARD SPILLANE,
(By Universal Service)

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—For dogged bullishness, there have been few stock markets recently to measure up with that of today. Comparatively few issues failed to show gains.

Where they registered losses there was a good reason for the decline. Baldwin locomotive was the feature of the day. In face of its very poor financial report for the last year it was bought with the utmost confidence at no time showing a sign of weakness and closing at the top, 5 3-8 points up for the day.

Although Baldwin was in the center of the market picture from start to finish United States Steel was the most forceful influence. It opened strong, went along slowly and steadily above 125, loaded a bit, closing 1 1-2 up for the day.

All the steels were strong. Reports from the industry were of a high percentage of production and a very good demand. Various of the independents particularly Gulf States, Sloss-Shofield and Republic, made excellent gains.

Rails with the exception of Atchafalaya, were well up in the possession. Atchafalaya made such an unusually large advance in the p.m. market of Tuesday that it was entitled to a readjustment in price. Southern Pacific, Southern Railway, St. Louis and San Francisco, Rock Island, and Union Pacific were in excellent demand.

Oils did well. General Petroleum again distinguished itself. The one distinctively weak stock of the list was American Woolen. It was heavily sold and at one time was down nearly 4 points. It closed 2 1-4 down.

In some respects today's market appeared the best in a month or more. Transactions were in good, healthy volume. Money was easy.

All grains did quite well, corn particularly.

Cotton was not responsive to bullish news to the degree that might be expected.

WHEAT SALE IS POOR

By Charles J. Leyden, Staff Correspondent of Universal Service.

CHICAGO, Feb. 18.—Wheat proved itself a poor sale today despite an array of bear news. In sympathy with the lagging foreign markets and further talk of re-selling by the continent the local element pressed the selling side during the early trade and with temporary success. Influential buying through commission houses, however, gradually absorbed the pit surplus and the last hour witnessed a spirited rally.

Wheat closed 5-8c higher to 1-8c lower; corn was 1-5-8 to 2-1-2c higher; oats were 1-8 to 3-4 advanced and rye ruled unchanged to 3-4 up.

For several days wheat has rebounded from all setbacks as a result of prominent support. Pit brokers were of the opinion that cash interests did much of the buying today although a house that has been committed to the bull side for months also was a conspicuous buyer.

The seaboard confirmed fair export business. Southwest points also noted export inquiries. Liverpool futures closed 1-4 to 1 1-2d higher for wheat. Buenos Aires was moderately lower.

Corn developed a buoyant undertone after an early dip. Excellent absorption by commission houses and leading local bulls forced heavy covering by shorts. The movement of corn is materially smaller than a year ago with indications of it continuing to ebb. The cash demand gives signs of improving and the discounts for the poor grades have narrowed recently relative to the futures.

Oats met strong buying at times and moved forward with other grains.

LANKERSHIM—Lankershim Ladder company to construct two-story warehouse.

The run of oats has dropped abruptly and the demand for the cash articles has broadened.

Rye trailed wheat up, but failed to show much snap. Speculative interest in this grain has simmered and the export trade is only fair.

Provisions eased early and then firmed up. Lard was unchanged to 2 1-2c higher and ribs were 10 to 25c higher.
